Here are your braces biggest enemies:

- Apples/Pears: Don't bite into a whole one! Cut it into thin wedges first.
- Bagels and hard rolls: Convicted culprits of bending wires and loosening brackets.
- Beef jerky: Your braces don't stand a chance against this leathery food.
- Bubble gum: Trust us, there's nothing worse than spending hours picking gum from your braces.
- Fruit roll-ups/anything gummy: These will get stuck in your braces, also.
- Candy canes or suckers: You might weaken and take a bite!
- Caramels and chewy candies: And you thought bubble gum was messy.
- Chicken Wings/Ribs: You can enjoy these if you first cut the meat off the bone.
- Corn chips: Anything that crunches when you bite it is bad news for braces.
- Corn on the cob: If you must, remove the kernels from the cob with a knife, then enjoy!
- Fingernails: Now's the perfect time to kick that bad habit.
- Hard candies: Can loosen wires and dislodge brackets.
- Hard cookies: Good news: you can have these if you soften them with milk.
- Ice Cubes: No crunching!
- Nuts: All varieties- including peanuts, cashews and almonds- are off limits.
- Peanut brittle: Anything that crunches when you bite is bad news for braces.
- Pens and pencils: Don't laugh; a lot of students can't stop chewing on these inedible school supplies.
- Pickles: If you have a craving, cut them into bite-sized pieces.
- Popcorn: Great with movies, bad with braces.
- Pizza Crust: No crust, but everything else is fine!
- Pretzels: Bend wires, loosens bands and knocks off brackets.
- Raw carrots: Steam or boil them first for a less crunchy option.
- Sugary candy: Can lodge beneath brackets and wires, leading to tooth decay.
- Taffy: It's best to avoid this stuff entirely-even if you don't have braces!

I have read and understand if I eat the food mentioned above, I may bend wires or break my brackets which could result in extending my treatment time.
